County Court Filings

Historically, the Veterans Administration and other military-affiliated groups have always encouraged separating and retiring personnel to file their DD 214s with their county courthouse, ensuring access to a legitimate copy. However, by filing with a county courthouse it becomes accessible as a public record. This creates an extreme vulnerability to identity theft because the form contains personal information such as name, birth date, social security number and current address. To safeguard against financial scams and identity theft, avoid filing a DD 214 with a county courthouse. Instead make working copies and keep the original in a secure location such as a safe deposit box at a local bank.

Survey Requires Army Civilian Input

In mid-January, a written survey was mailed to some 95,000 Army civilians and military members to gather data on Army training and leader development for Army civilians. Opinions will be registered anonymously. Each returned survey adds to the volume of data, and the more data received, the greater the potential impact. If you haven't completed your survey, please do so and mail it by Feb. 28.

Form 1099-MISC Erroneously Issued

Defense Finance Accounting Service Erroneously issued IRS Form 1099-MISC to service members who received proceeds for "damaged household goods incident to government procured move." Members who received a Form 1099, reporting the reimbursement for damaged goods, should not use the IRS Form 1099-MISC issued by DFAS when filing taxes. DFAS will provide corrected Form 1099 for members in this circumstance to keep on file. Again, do not use IRS Form 1099-MISC issued by DFAS for reimbursement of "damaged household goods incident to government procured move when filing taxes."

The next 6th Area Support Group Tenants Meeting is March 6, 9 a.m. in the Kelley Community Club.

Off-Post Resident Rumors Not True

Reports that Americans living off post are being targeted by burglars are untrue. German Polizei and U.S. military law enforcement officials have investigated these reports and state they are not true.

Healthy Choice Soup Recalled

ConAgra Foods, Inc., has voluntarily recalled 408,000 pounds of its Healthy Choice brand chicken noodle soup because it contains a known allergen not listed as an ingredient. The label on this production quantity fails to list whey protein as an ingredient. Affected are the 15-ounce cans with the establishment code P91 on the top and label bearing UPC 05010040260. This product recall is of concern only to customers with a known allergy to the whey protein. Anyone wishing to return the recalled product to their local commissary may do so for a full refund.

Report Suspected Espionage Incidents

Community members can help prevent subversion and espionage by guarding against the collection efforts of foreign intelligence services.

Watch for someone who appears to be collecting information on U.S. personnel or facilities through observation, surveillance, document collection or questioning. Report it to the Stuttgart Military Intelligence Office, 421-2206/civ. 0711-729-2206.
